授業目的
CEP 3 is a compulsory class for 2nd year intensive English course students. It enables students to improve their ability to communicate in English in a variety of social contexts. Students will be able to improve their conversational English skills by learning the language and communication strategies needed for various social situations. Students should also improve their general English knowledge and skills. Course activities will also enable students to become more independent, self-directed learners. This course should help prepare students to communicate in international contexts, including studying abroad.
各回毎の授業内容
Outline of lessons Lessons in CEP 3 focus on improving oral communication skills. The lessons provide opportunities to learn and practice the language needed to communicate in different social situations. Lesson activities are designed to be motivating and successful learning experiences which help build student confidence. Students learn how to talk about and understand common conversation topics. Students also learn how to perform important language functions, such as giving opinions, describing people and experiences, and making apologies, offers and requests. You learn English by using English. Therefore, lessons in CEP 3 require students to participate in speaking activities such as role plays, discussions and short presentations.
